

Chaplain/Pastor Terry Morgan is an ordained minister with over 30 years of experience. He has spent almost 25 years as a law enforcement chaplain. He is currently the Pastor of the Church of the Indwelling in Redding, CA, and the Senior Chaplain/Executive Director of Gold Country Chaplaincy and Press4hope. Morgan attained the Master Chaplain Level of the International Conference of Police Chaplains, and is a member of the International Critical Incident Stress Foundation. He received his Board Certification in Emergency Crisis Response through the American Academy of Experts in Traumatic Stress. Chaplain Morgan has extensive training, and is a certified trainer for QPR suicide prevention, and a provisional trainer for ASIST suicide intervention. He is a member in good standing with the "Assn. of the United States Army" (AUSA). Chaplain Morgan has sat on several boards representing the Faith based Community including the boards of the "Campaign for Community Wellness," and "Advocates for the Mentally Ill Housing". He is the past President of the Board for the Gold Country Veteran Stand Down. Most recently he became a Local Board Member for the Selective Service System Region III and a Board Member of the national organization, "PoliceUSA."

Chaplain Morgan was one of a handful of law enforcement chaplains chosen to work with Louisiana Mental Health and the New Orleans Police Dept. immediately following Hurricane Katrina. He has also been one of only a few chaplains selected to work with surviving family members of officers killed in the line of duty during "National Police Week" in Washington D.C.

Chaplain Morgan earned his Masters degree in Ministry in Public Safety, from Trinity Biblical University and his Bachelors degree in Theology from Pacific Coast Bible College. He also has an Associate of Science Degree in Business Management from Sacramento City College. He has taught Bible college courses, and teaches crisis counseling for chaplains. He is often called upon as an expert in dealing with traumatic stress, and stress management. He has been frequently published in Officer.com magazine on a variety of topics related to law enforcement, and has been featured in "PORAC" magazine and "Extant Magazine." He has written numerous articles for several local newspapers, including the Auburn Journal as a guest contributor. He is the author of the books "The Chaplain's Role, How Clergy Can Work with Law Enforcement;" "Life Celebrations a Guide for Funeral and Memorial Services;" "What to do When Grief Kidnaps Your Soul"; and "Starting With God." His first book "The Chaplain's Role," was recently picked up by Liberty University as a textbook for their chaplain course "CHPL 598 Chaplain Formation Practicum."

Chaplain Morgan teaches various ministries how to help their own parishioners through critical incidents, crisis, moral injury, and traumatic events, while exercising good stress management techniques and preventing compassion fatigue or burn out in their ministers.
